

DR Recruit Me Inks Staffing Deal with a Leading Provider of Mobile and IPTV Web Solutions

Montreal, Canada, February 04, 2008 --(PR.com)-- DR Recruit Me (www.drrecruitme.com), a Montreal based firm specialized in the recruitment of qualified candidates in IT, programming, sales and marketing positions has just inked a recruitment deal with a leading provider of Mobile and IPTV web solutions.

The undisclosed client, located in the heart of Montreal's downtown core, is a fast growing company in its sector. Its diverse talent pool has enabled it to develop original high tech solutions for different media and mobile clients in Canada and around the globe.

"We are very proud of this recent recruitment agreement. It seems that the quality of our recruitment services as well as our competitive pricing is having a positive effect on our business. We are rapidly growing and convincing more businesses to let us assist them in their search for highly qualified employees" said Dany Raphael, founder and president of DR Recruit Me.

DR Recruit Me uses Web 2.0 tools to bring the power of technology and social networking to its own recruitment strategies. These tools are used in combination with other more traditional job posting strategies.

The agency operates most of its business online. As a result, this helps small and medium size companies save on their recruitment budget.
